

*American Society of Hypertension Inc. (ASH)
Satellite Symposia, ASH 2009*

DATE AND TIME:

Saturday, May 9, 2009, 6:00 am – 8:00 am

TITLE:

IMPROVING CARDIOVASCULAR RISK FACTOR MANAGEMENT IN COMMUNITY-BASED PRACTICES: PROTOTYPICAL CHALLENGES AND PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS.

CHAIRPERSON:

Brent M. Egan, MD
Charleston, SC

AGENDA:

Introduction and Welcome
Brent M. Egan, MD

Multiple Cardiovascular Risk Factor Control in a Community-Based Practice Network.
Characteristics of (Un)Controlled Patients
Brent M. Egan, MD

Case Presentation: A Young Minority Man (<45 years old) with Untreated Blood
Pressure of 154/92 (5 minute presentation: 20 minute panel discussion)
Keith C. Ferdinand, MD
Atlanta, GA

Case Presentation: An Elderly Woman with Treatment Resistant Hypertension (5 minute presentation: 20 minute panel discussion)
David A. Calhoun, MD
Birmingham, AL

Case Presentation: Obese, Pre-Diabetic, Hypertensive with Microalbuminuria and Stage
3 CKD (5 minute presentation: 20 minute panel discussion)
George L. Bakris, MD
Chicago, IL

Guest Panelist:

James R. Sowers, MD
Columbia, MO

Barriers and Facilitators of Risk Factor Control: Strategies for Improvement.
Brent M. Egan, MD

Discussion
All faculty

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Improve the treatment and control of hypertension in clinical settings and community based practices
- Manage the prototypical challenges to hypertension management including resistant hypertension, and hypertension complicated by comorbidities

Breakfast will be served at 5:30 am in the Yerba Buena Ballrooms 1-6.

Supported by an educational grant from Merck & Co. Inc.